Herodotus and the Persian Wars • Herodotus is the first true historian known in Western Civilization • he lived during the Classical Age of Greece (the fifth century BC). Herodotus is the "Father of History and—according to some—also the Father of Lies." As a discipline, history begins with Herodotus' Histories, the first known systematic investigation of the past. Herodotus is the "Father of History" and—according to some—also the "Father of Lies." As a discipline, history begins with Herodotus' Histories, the first known systematic investigation of the past. Explicitly, The Histories deal with the Persian Wars, the Greeks' double defeat of the formidable Xerxes, Would-Be Conqueror of the World. Nearly 2500 years ago, Xerxes the Great, King of Kings, the king of Persia who considered himself a god, decided to go to war: "My intent is to throw a bridge over the Hellespont and march an army through Europe against Greece, that thereby I may obtain vengeance from the..."
