Wind it until it stops. Don't make this any more complicated than it needs to be. So how exactly ought one wind one's Omega Speedmaster? Or any manual wind watch for that matter? I get the following questions all the time from my clients. 1) how do I wind my watch? 2) when do I know when to stop winding? 3) how fast do I wind the crown? Manual-winding calibers: Let's have a look to the manual-winding watches first. As it's said in the name, you need to manually wind-up the barrel spring by turning the watch's crown several times. At this point don't try to force on the crown. You just need to wind until you feel a resistance. It will indicate that the spring is totally wound-up.
