Apologeticus (Latin: Apologeticum or Apologeticus) is Tertullian's most famous work, consisting of apologetic and polemic. In this work Tertullian defends Christianity, demanding legal toleration and that Christians be treated as all other sects of the Roman Empire. It is in this treatise that one finds the phrase: "the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church" (Apologeticus, Chapter 50). The third and final collection in the Vespers series of death masks sees the Mediated Matter Group explore the concept of rebirth, with a collection of five, almost colourless 3D-printed masks ... Bott also teased a horrifying run-in between the killer nuns and another cultish-looking group — the cult of martyrs led by Fiona Dourif's character, who dress all in blue and serve themselves ... The hit horror franchise The Purge heads to TV in a new series that offers smart ensemble drama and fun mythology building with a distinctly tamed down for TV tone.
